

THE FRANK VINDICATOR

VOL. I, NO. 16

FRANK, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 6, 1911.

$2.00 YEARLY

TO YOU! TO YOU! TO YOU! A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU! TO YOU! TO YOU!

SOUTHERN HOTEL

STEVE MANAHAN - PROPRIETOR

NEWLY OPENED

EVERYTHING UP-TO-DATE

Wines, Spirits, Cigars, Etc., Only the Best Quality Kept

BELLEVUE

ALBERTA

W. G. WARN

The Busy Grocery Store of Hillcrest

Has just taken up the agency for the Pincher Creek Mill & Elevator Company's Flour - ALBERTA'S BEST. This Company has just installed one of the latest and most up-to-date mills in Canada and guarantee every bag.

With every trial bag of

ALBERTA'S BEST

we give you one five-pound bag of CREMO - if after two bakings you are not satisfied we refund you the price of flour purchased. This is surely a fine inducement for you to try a bag of flour milled in your own Province by your own neighbor. Go to Warn's and purchase a trial bag.

Warn carries a full line of first-class Groceries and can give you satisfaction on every article you purchase and also the best price in the Pass.

W. G. WARN

HILLCREST

ALBERTA

Bellevue Meat Market

P. HART, - Proprietor

FRESH MEATS FRESH MEATS

Mutton Pork Veal Fish
Poultry Eggs, Etc.

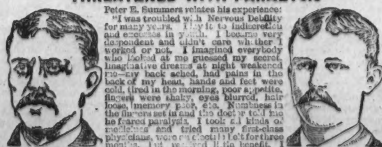

Fresh Beef from our own ranch

daily
Orders Receive Prompt Attention

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you and make a man of you. Under this treatment the blood is purified, the blood vessels are strengthened, the nerves are restored to their normal condition, the system is invigorated and the body is made strong and healthy. The face is bright, the eyes are clear, the hair is black and the body is made strong and healthy. The face is bright, the eyes are clear, the hair is black and the body is made strong and healthy. The face is bright, the eyes are clear, the hair is black and the body is made strong and healthy.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT
THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

BEFORE TREATMENT AFTER TREATMENT
The man on the left is shown before treatment, looking weak and ill. The man on the right is shown after treatment, looking healthy and strong.

CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY

We treat and cure VARICOSE VEINS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, BLOOD AND URINARY COMPLAINTS, KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES and all Diseases peculiar to Men.

CONSULTATION FREE. BOOKS FREE. If unable to call write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment.

DRS. KENNEDY & KENNEDY

Cor. Michigan Ave. and Griswold St., Detroit, Mich.

NOTICE All letters from Canada must be addressed to our Canadian Correspondence Department in Windsor, Ont. If you desire to see us personally call at our Medical Institute, Detroit and we will see and treat no patients in our Windsor offices which are for Correspondence and Laboratory for Canadian business only. Address all letters as follows:

DRS. KENNEDY & KENNEDY, Windsor, Ont.

Write for our private address.

Happenings in and Around Frank

Mr. and Mrs. Garbett, of Michel, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton at the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans have returned to town, we understand that Mr. Evans has secured a position as engineer at Lillie.

Nomination for council was held here on Tuesday night last, when the following were chosen: J. Wheeler (re-elect), James W. Gresham (re-elect), Harvey Murphy (re-elect), C. J. Tompkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Muller were host and hostess, at a select party held at their home on New Year's eve. The guests, including the office staff of the Canadian Coal Consolidated Co. were royally entertained, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

A very successful ball was held in the Miners' Hall on Monday night under the auspices of the local Miners' Union. The hall was very prettily decorated for the occasion and every one expressed themselves as having a good time.

The local hockey team visited Coleman on Monday to play the first of the scheduled games of the Crow's Nest Pass League, and got beaten. The score being Coleman 9 goals, Frank 2. The boys didn't lose from a lack of earnest effort, or inferiority of material, to all appearances, but rather from a lack of practice, and this they intend to remedy before their next tussle.

Two young ladies from Blairmore were recently riding on a crowded street car at Calgary and were obliged to stand. One of them to steady herself took hold to what she thought was the other girl's hand. They had stood thus for some time when, on looking down, she discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Being greatly embarrassed, she exclaimed:

"Oh, I've got the wrong hand!"
Whereupon the man with a smile stretched forth the other hand, saying:
"Here's the other one, Miss."

Closing Festival at South Fork

A pleasant party was given here at the Coal Securities camp, on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., when the employees were asked to join in a goose and turkey supper, the occasion being the closing of the camp for the season.

After partaking of a most excellent supper, put up by Mrs. A. Mustfelt in her usual first-class style, which would be hard to excel, a splendid programme was arranged by M. G. Rhynas, a man hard to surpass in a matter of this kind.

A splendid exhibition of Scotch and Irish step dances was given by P. Reid, the music being supplied by J. Prentice, the fiddler. Songs were given by Andy Jackson, G. Turnbull and A. Mathieson. A splendid recitation was given by M. G. Rhynas, an accordion solo by the Misses Mustfelt; but the hit of the evening was made by A. Jackson, of the King George hotel, who delivered a neat speech, sparkling with funny jokes and reminiscences of his pioneer days in the West. (Mr. Jackson is now over the the three-score-and-ten mark, but is still as smart as many younger men.) Dancing was indulged in till the wee sma' ho's and a very pleasant time was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

South Fork, Dec. 24th, 1910.

A. I. BLAIS

HIGH CLASS GROCERIES

CHRISTMAS SPECIALTIES

FRESH RAISINS
CURRANTS
CANDIED PEEL
TABLE RAISINS
TOKAY GRAPES
MALAGA GRAPES

NUTS of all kinds
JAP ORANGES
CANDIES, in bulk and Fancy Boxes at all Prices

Frank, Alberta.

The Passburg Hotel

T. H. Duncan, Prop.

Bright, Clean Wholesome Rooms

The Bar is well stocked with the Finest York Sun. Liquors and Imported and

DR. WINTERS

Cures all chronic diseases. Write him. His valuable advice will do you nothing. 215, NEW YORK CITY.

J. W. Gresham

GENERAL BLACKSMITH AND WHEELWIPES

Hardwood of all kinds always in stock. Prompt attention given to all work. A large stock of Never Slip Shoes and in stock. AGENT FOR: Canada Carriage Co. Tudhope Anderson's Sleighs, Buggies, etc.

FRANK

ALBERTA

New Tailor Shop

- McCutcheon Brothers -

Who conducted a Tailor Shop in Spokane for several years, wish to inform the people of the Pass that they have just opened up a Tailor Shop in Bellevue, where they are prepared to do all kinds of Tailoring, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Prices Moderate and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

MCCUTCHEON BROTHERS

BELLEVUE - ALBERTA

"THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE" FINE JOB PRINTING!
TELEPHONE 11, DRAWER "E," BLAIRMORE, ALTA.

Anything in our line Promptly and Artistically Executed. New Type Faces. New Designs.

CANADIAN PACIFIC*Western Excursions
Single Fare

PLUS $2.00, For The Round Trip

From all stations in Ontario,
Port Arthur and West, Manitoba, Saskatchewan & AlbertaVancouver Victoria and
New WestminsterTickets on sale December 15, 16 and 17, 1910; January 20, 21, 22 and 23, and February 14, 15 and 16, 1911; good to return within three months from date of issue.Apply to nearest Canadian Pacific Railway Agent for full information.Dissolution of PartnershipThis is to certify that the business, heretofore subsisting between John Carroll and J. R. Milligan, of the firm name of Carroll & Milligan, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. All claims against the said partnership are to be presented at once.J. R. MILLIGAN
JOHN CARROLL
Blairmore, Alberta,
December 17, 1910.Here and ThereArch Hoxby flew on Thursday last at Los Angeles to a height of 14,205 feet in a Wright biplane.
This constitutes a record.A large moose came into Jasper Street, Edmonton, about ten days ago to spend Christmas, but other folks enjoyed Christmas better than did that moose.The loftiest chimney in the world was recently put into service at a large smelting works in the States. The chimney, which is of brick, is 506 feet in height, and 50 feet in diameter at the top.The paragraphers are still keeping in circulation the paragraph about the judge who ruled that a man need not support his mother-in-law. What is it, imprecious-ity, tight-waddened or just pure cussedness?Mrs. A. E. Stetson, a leading Christian scientist, of New York has said that Mrs. Mary R. K.
Eddy will yet "demonstrate" her death. She believes that Mrs.
Eddy occupies in the world today precisely the same position that our Saviour occupied in His day.Fred Kirkpatrick arrived in town Tuesday from Lethbridge, where he has been residing for some months past. "Fred" is well known among the types of Alberta and B. C. and we were pleased to see him fattening on the pie.An envelope that had been sent from Blairmore on Dec. 16th, and contained a money order payable at Philadelphia, was recovered from the ruins of the big stock yards fire at Chicago recently, the money order being intact. The envelope which was scorched all around the edges, was returned here to the sender, Mrs. J. B.
Smith, and now occupies a place
among our curios.E. W. WelchTHE HOME BAKERY
Pure, Palatable and Wholesome Bread, Cakes, Pies, Etc.
FRANK AlbertaBlairmore
Shoeing
ForgeR. SMALLWOOD, Proprietor
Formerly owned by H. Gebel

First-Class Work guaranteed.

Prompt attention given to all work.Experience in all branches of the trade.

Never Slip Shoes in stock.

Blairmore Alberta

The Blairmore Livery StableBruneau & Houston, Barn Phone, No. 73.
House Phone, No. 16.

Blairmore, - Alberta

A Purchase That
Will Pay!*PASSBURG is going to be The Metropolis of the Foothills, and Land is Increasing in Value faster than in any other part of Sunny Alberta.*The Prettiest and the Most Conveniently
Located Residential
Lots on the Townsite
are now on the market and for sale by the undersigned.*Low Prices and Easy Terms to those requiring Building Lots.Plans, etc., may be seen on application toJAMES REDFERN

REDFERN'S LAKE

Passburg, - Alberta

The Crow's Nest Flour & Feed
Co., Ltd.*Wholesale and Retail.

Agents for The Macleod Milling Co's Celebrated Pantry Queen Flour.

Butter and Eggs a Specialty.

Blairmore, Alberta

Hello, Central!

Give me "147," Please?

"Hello! Is this Kalil Bros.?"

"Yes, Madam."

"Have you Chicago-made Skirts in the latest style?"

"Yes."

"Will you send me one this afternoon?""Yes, we will. But you had better call in and see them."We have a big stock of Ladies' and Gents' Wear*Kalil Bros.VICTORIA STREET EAST
Blairmore, - Alta.T. C. JONES*The "Palm" Bakery.FINEST BREADS, CAKES, PIES, Etc., Etc.CHRISTMAS CAKES
A SPECIALTY

BRIDE CAKES MADE TO ORDER

Leave your orders with MRS. A. BRYDEN, at
The Great West Restaurant, Blairmore, Alta.

Coleman, - Alta.

VICTOR LEMIEUXBARBERUnion Prices First Class Work
BLAIRMORE AlbertaRobert Gordon Munro*B. A.BARRISTER, SOLICITOR
Blairmore AlbertaFRANK HOTEL

A. MANUEL, PROP.

Provides The Best Accommodation

Thoroughly First-Class
in all respects

FRANK Alberta

1911 CalendarsWe have received a large number of beautiful calendars at our office, amongst them being a handsome specimen presented by B. D.
MacDougall, jeweller. It contains a beautiful frontispiece, "The Girl in Blue," a reproduction of the original hand painting by Wm.
Thorne, A. N. A. There is also a descriptive title-leaf attached, in which Thorne is accredited for his preeminence in the art of hand painting.Another 1911 calendar has been handed us by Mr. H. F. Weber, the popular proprietor of Weber's Stores, Michel and Blairmore, and contains a handsome reproduction of the famous "Golden Rod" amid the daisies.Gilroy and Rose, proprietors of the Unique Barber Shop, have also conceived the wisdom of advertising through the calendar medium.
Their 1911 calendar is a beauty, branching off from the common to a picture of "Progress," in which is shown the pioneer hut, surrounded by stumps, which the settler had not yet been able to uproot, the ploughman with his team of steers upturns the sod around the stump. A small canal boat is being drawn by a mule team, while the passengers are given accommodation on the open deck. The other side of the picture shows ploughing being done by modern methods, the street car, railway and automobile takes commission from the noble horse, and the farmer's home—a mansion in all its make-up.Kalil Brothers have also presented their customers with beautiful calendars, and numerous others of our business folk have come out on top and in this manner display their business tact, which is indeed speaking bulks for the prosperity of our town.Municipal NominationsTuesday was nomination day for Blairmore municipality, and a large gathering of ratepayers assembled in the school hall that night at 8 o'clock to discuss municipal affairs and to select men to control the affairs of our town for the ensuing year.W. A. Beebe, chairman of the council, occupied the chair. A report of revenue and expenses for the past year was read and placed upon the table, details of which we hope to publish in a later edition of this paper.Nomination was taken up with the following result: John A. Mc-Donald (re-nom), Thos. Frayer
(re-nom), Louis Dutil (re-nom),
H. E. Lyon, Frank Greco, K.
C. Green, Harry J. Mathieson,
Isaac Loughhead and Archie Mc-Leod. There being no further nominations the meeting closed at 10 o'clock.Election takes place on Tuesday next at the school hall, the polls being open from 8 to 10 p.m.Through the kindness of H. E.
Lyon, the Mercantile hall has been offered to the candidates for the coming municipal election, wherein they will hold a public meeting on Friday night at 8 o'- clock. Every ratepayer is invited to attend to hear the views and manifestos of the several candidates, also to hear from the old council a report of the work done by them during their term in office.Blairmore HotelD. C. DRAIN, Prop.
BLAIRMORE, ALTA.

30¢

OUR BAR IS STOCKED WITH THE FINEST WINES LIQUORS AND CIGARS

Good Rooms. Good Meals. Rates, $2.00 per day and up

P. Burns & Co., LimitedChoice Meats

both fresh and smoked

Turkeys

Ducks

Chickens

Geese

PROVINCIAL CREAMERY BUTTER
Give us a trial

FRAYER'S PHONE NO. 29

SINCLAIR'S PHONE NO. 60

Frayer & Sinclair

Contractors & Builders

PLANS FURNISHED

ESTIMATES GIVEN

DEALERS IN

Rough & Dressed Lumber, Sash & Doors

Shingles & Lath

Blairmore - Alberta

Canadian Pacific Railway*FIRST ANNUAL EXCURSION TO
Los Angeles, Cal.— BY SPECIAL TRAIN FROM —
SPOKANE, WASH., Tuesday, January 17, '11.Tickets on sale January 14, 15, 16 and 17, 1911.
Final return limit, 90 days.FARE FROM BLAIRMORE TO LOS ANGELES
AND RETURN:Going and returning via Spokane $113.30
Going via Spokane, returning via Seattle . 126.15Above fares include berths and meals from Spokane on going trip.
For full information regarding these and other excursion rates, apply to nearest C.P. Railway Agent, or toR. G. McNEILLIE

DISTRICT PASSENGER AGENT, CALGARY, ALTA.

THE LEITCH COLLIERIES, LTD.Passburg, Alberta*Steam and Domestic Coal*High Grade—Uniform Quality

Head Office

Sales Office and Mines

Northern Bank Building, Winnipeg, Man.

Passburg, Alta.

Careful Attention to all Trade.

Correspondence Solicited.

In Dread of Piles

Many Believe That Nothing Short of the Surgeon's Knife Will Effect Cure. They Do Not Know

Dr. Chase's Ointment.
The agony caused by the intense itching, the depressing and debilitating effect on the system, the distress a surgical operation might be necessary—these are the things which make piles or hemorrhoids so distressing.

The doctors have been recommending surgical operations as the only cure. But the surgical operation with all its dangers and expense and pain, does not usually effect a lasting cure. Many a case has been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment after the surgical operation had failed. Here is a case which doctors gave up.

Mr. J. Mawer, Boden, Man., writes: "Dr. Chase's Ointment is a wonderful preparation. I had itching piles for over six years, and though I tried two doctors' prescriptions and used many other preparations, could not obtain much benefit. The doctor told me there was no cure for me, and that I would have to undergo an operation. I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and used it for six months and there has been no return of the old trouble. I believe that the cure is a permanent one."

One thing certain, Dr. Chase's Ointment will bring relief from the dreadful itching and burning almost as soon as applied.

To make the cure thorough and lasting it is only necessary for you to keep up the treatment regularly and persistently. Don't be satisfied with relief. Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure completely if you do your part. 40 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A French aeronaut has patented a balloon which, when deflated, can be packed in its basket and the entire equipment carried on a man's back.

Shiloh's Cure

quickly stops cough, cures cold, breaks the throat and lungs. 25 cents.

A scientist tells that a woman's mind is apt to be stronger than a man's. Constant changing naturally wears anything out.

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows.

More people would take chances if they knew that some of the things that come are not worth worrying for.

Would Not Be Without Baby's Own Tablets

Mothers having once used Baby's Own Tablets for their little ones would not be without them. These Tablets are a sure remedy for the little ills such as constipation, colic, worms, colds, etc.

So many mothers have found them so useful, they can be given with absolute safety to the youngest child for they are sold under the name of the Government analyst to contain no opiate or other harmful drug.

Concerning them, Mrs. J. E. Peterson, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl and have found them of great value. Others to whom I have recommended the Tablets say they would not be without them."

Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A single bee, with all its industry, energy, and intelligence, is a creature that has to perform, will not collect more than a teaspoonful of honey in a single season.

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms, and they lose no time in applying the best of remedies—Worm Gravel's Worm Expeller.

Danger Ahead
Uncle Ezra says "Some folks" candles in their eyes are going to be knocked out by airplanes sooner or later."—Boston Herald.

OLD PROSPECTOR TELLS HIS STORY

HIS REAL TROUBLES STARTED WHEN RHEUMATISM GOT HIM

Plasters, Ointments and Sulphur were Alice Utstein, but Dodd's Kidney Pills Made a New Man of Him.

Princeton, N.C. (Special).—All over Canada people are telling of the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing and even in the Rocky Mountain fastnesses where nature hides her mines, men are telling of cures made and suffering relieved by the great Canadian Kidney remedy.

Wm. Murray, sixty years old, who has tramped the frontier as a lumber jack, rancher, prospector, miner, hunter, and trapper, and who has traveled all over the west, is one of these. Many a tale of hardship and danger he can tell, but his first real trouble came when rheumatism claimed him.

"I slipped on the mountainside and strained my kidney, and then my troubles all seemed to set in at once. I had nearly all the symptoms of Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Diabetic Dropsy, and Bright's Disease," Mr. Murray states.

"Then I broke out in a terrible rash that spread all over my body and kept me in torture. I tried all the liniments and ointments and took sulphur enough to start a little blade of my own. But it all did me no good. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and all I can say is they made a new man of me."

W. H. U., No. 624

TRICKS OF WOUNDED WILD FOWL

Face Death Under Water Rather than the Hunter's Shot

The cunning exhibited by certain species of wild fowl when wounded is remarkable. Many a duck hunter has seen them die, never apparently hurt, and return to the surface again. Certain kinds of ducks are observed to be in their willingness to come to decoys, become, when struck by a bullet, lithe devils of almost sarcastic cleverness.

A case in point occurred not long ago when a duck hunter on the St. Lawrence, showed a big cock with a shot from his boat secluded in a reed bed. The duck first attempted to rise, but discovering that its wing was crippled, immediately dropped in for the water again and dove. The hunter stood up in his boat with his gun leveled for a second shot at the bird when it was in view to the surface, but he waited in vain for the reappearance of his game.

There were several flocks flying to decoys, but the hunter determined to row out and solve if possible the mystery of the cock's disappearance. He rowed out and the decoys were still there, but he saw the wounded duck lunge beneath the surface. Suddenly, in the clear water below the surface of the boat, he saw the solution of the mystery.

Anchored a few feet from the bottom by a thick reed stalk, wings outstretched and head hanging limply down, the bird was the body of the elusive cock. With the tension of a death grip it was evident he had clung to the reed, but he was not rising again to the surface where he had received before the pain from the wounding bullet. Even when he gave himself up to this strange enemy, he had preferred to remain at the bottom.

Running his oar blade into the water, the hunter tried to detach his prey, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

Another instance of the traits of a wounded duck will resort to swimming, but so firmly was he clung that it was only by severing the weed itself that the duck was brought again to the surface. When he was taken into the boat, the bird's throat remained fast upon the reed stalk.

INSANITY AND DIVORCE.

Sir James Crichton-Browne Says One Is No Excuse for Other.

Sir James Crichton-Browne, the distinguished physician, who has been the Lord Chancellor's Visitor in Lunacy since 1875, is at variance with the majority of those who have expounded their views on lunacy and divorce before the Divorce Commission.

When he gave evidence at Winchester House he declared that the proposal that insanity of any duration, or kind should constitute a ground for divorce seemed to him highly objectionable.

"Insanity is simply a bodily disease," he added, "manifesting itself in mental derangement, and if it were to be recognized as a sufficient reason for divorce, I do not see why many other bodily diseases should not be also."

"Insanity is a disease and a visitation of God, and to allow any divorce, no matter what its nature or extent, to annul a mutual contract explicitly or tacitly acknowledged hitherto, to all who have entered into it to be 'for better or worse,' in sickness or in health, would be to seem to me, to truckle to selfishness, to undermine those altruistic sentiments which have prepared so great a part in human progress, and to be in some measure a reversion to the ruthless law of the jungle."

In reply to a question by the Archbishop of York, Sir James told a young lady and her mother.

"Years ago," he said, "a medical friend of mine became engaged to a young lady and her mother."

"In the carriage on the way to the station after the ceremony the young lady said to him, 'But you are suddenly gone mad.' He hesitated whether to take her back to her parents, or to continue the journey to the Continent. He decided on the latter course."

"While they were crossing the Channel the young wife threw herself overboard, but, buoyed up by the knowledge she was wearing, she was saved."

"Her delirium disappeared at the time of the rescue, and she lived happily together for twenty years."

Sir James said he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

Some outspoken remarks concerning selfish behavior were made by the Rev. Dr. Hemphill of Tipperary at the conference of the Church of Ireland at Belfast recently.

A woman of the farming class, he said, refused to let him know that the population was running very low, and that some of the young men that were being sent to the workhouse were of the same class.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

He said that he was not entitled to an opinion on the subject of divorce generally any more than any other man in the street, but he did not help thinking that, instead of allowing greater laxity in divorce, the law should be made so strict in the long run would be to abolish it altogether, and to hold men and women to their marital bonds.

MADE IN CANADA

Every Indulgence Is Given to Prisoners at the Last.

What happens to a man, condemned to die on the scaffold, from the time he leaves the dock doomed, to the moment the small body of men enter his cell one morning to inform him that the hour has come for the carrying out of the orders of the law?

A condemned man has a few privileges according to other convictions. He may be allowed to smoke, he may be granted a little beer on occasions, his food may be just as he chooses, but all this greatly depends on the governor of the prison.

A condemned prisoner is never left alone, day and night, warders are on duty in the cell, and in the centre of the floor stands a small table, and on it rests a book. This book must be carefully written up, for it must contain a complete account of all the convict's doings, his sayings, his requests, and his moods.

Naturally this book makes very interesting reading, and it is quite possible to have a look at it, for after the execution is over the book is carefully sealed, and is known of no more, unless the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Some of the stories that are told of the execution of a man are so full of interest, that it is not surprising to find that the Home Office, for some reason, desires to peruse its pages.

Has been Canada's favorite Yeast over a quarter of a century. Enough for 5 cts to produce 50 large loaves of fine, wholesome, nourishing, home-made bread.

Do not experiment—there is nothing "just as good."

E. W. GILLET &

Home Course In Health Culture

V.—Bathing For Health

By EUGENE L. FISK, M. D.
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

ANY one who has watched a group of small boys diving from the docks of our seacoast cities does not need a scientist to tell him that they are thoroughly at home in the water; but the scientist may suggest that this "at homeness" is an instinct transmitted from remote ancestors in the sturrian age and in support of this view will point out that human beings in the early stages of their development exhibit certain shlike characteristics, which warrant not only in the skin, but in the remotest recesses of the vital organs. The cold bath trains the nerve centers that control the production of body heat and those that control the blood vessels in such a way that the system is fortified against exposure to drafts. An earnest effort, therefore, should be made to accustom oneself to this valuable tonic and protective measure.

Barring physical disability, no one can offer a valid excuse for neglecting the daily bath. A tin tub, a jug of water, a sponge and a coarse towel suffice for a bath quite as refreshing as could be had in the luxurious halls of Caracalla.

Dangers of the Cold Bath. Personally I question the advisability of the ice cold plunge as a daily practice. The shock of this plunge is well reacted from by many, but there is danger in some cases of undue strain upon the arteries and internal organs.

The moderately cold plunge or shower fulfills all purposes of health, and it is the part of wisdom to be moderate in this as in all things.

The ice cold bath is to be avoided by those suffering from heart or kidney trouble or rheumatism. In such cases, subjects may still enjoy a daily tepid bath, especially if it is followed by a vigorous rubbing of the skin with a coarse towel.

Also these subjects may harden themselves against colds by lightly sponging the neck and chest with cool water.

A recess for the cold bath is before breakfast. Following the bath, vigorous rubbing with a coarse towel and a few exercises adapted to the strength and endurance of the individual are advisable.

A very valuable measure in cases of nervous exhaustion and occasional loss of sleep is the use of a strip sheet bath, employed as follows: The patient, stripped, should stand in a tub of warm water. A sheet dipped in cool or tepid water, the temperature depending upon the ability of the subject to react, is then wrapped around him from head to foot. Brisk friction of the body should be applied by an attendant, and the patient himself may rub the front of his body. Except on the advice of a physician such a bath should last but a few moments, and then the bather should be put to bed.

Bathing in Fevers. When typhoid fever, pneumonia or other serious illness exists the question of cold bathing must be left to the attending physician. In a mild feverish condition much comfort will be afforded the patient by cool sponging. Even sponging with tepid water will reduce the temperature and allay nervous excitement. The sponge should be "mashed" gently, but only wet enough to leave a light film of water on the skin.

The nightly hot foot bath is a valuable restorative measure, especially in middle life and old age. It promotes healthful, restful sleep and relaxes and refreshes the congested and tired brain.

After taking a hot foot bath the bather should go to bed at once and compose himself to rest before the effects of the bath pass away. No attempt should be made to induce a perspiration when the bath is taken for its sedative and restorative effects.

The value of a hot foot bath in checking a common cold is well known, but Dangers of Warm Bathing. The vast amount of supposed dirt removed by the Turkish bath is mostly epithelial scales from the various layers of skin. To remove an excessive amount of this scarf skin may impair its protective qualities; hence the advisability of not taking the Turkish or Russian bath oftener than once a week. However, the warm bath gives a greater feeling of confidence in one's cleanliness than the cold bath and is doubtless beneficial if not employed too often and to the exclusion of the more valuable and tonic cold bath.

It is a good plan to warm or sponge the neck and chest with cold water after finishing the warm, cleansing bath. This precaution should always be taken by those who rely solely on the warm bath and especially those who bathe every day; otherwise undue susceptibility to colds may develop. As a rule, the warm bath should be taken in the evening.

Most people who have employed the cold shower or plunge will testify to its delightful and invigorating effects. But there is no reason why it should be forced upon delicate children or feeble adults.

Baths For Babies. A daily bath for the young baby is of the utmost importance. At water temperature of the body should be 96 degrees F., but by the end of the first month it may be reduced to 70 degrees F.

When the child reaches eighteen months a cold sponge may be given as a finish to the warm bath.

Delicate children who have not been thus trained may be gradually inured to the cold bath and enjoy its benefits if caution is used. For such children the temperature of the water should be warm or tepid at first and daily reduced until it is obvious that a vigorous and healthy reaction will not follow a further reduction.

It is really dangerous, not to say cruel, for obstinate nurses or parents to force an anemic child with a poor circulation to take a cold bath from which it is physically incapable of reacting.

Very often the cold shower or sponge bath is well borne if one stands in a tub of warm water.

Value of the Cold Bath. The cold bath is a most valuable nervous and circulatory stimulant. When weak become it invigorates the circulation,

PITT HOUSE FOR SALE.

Home of the Great Commoner Just as He Left It.

A historic mansion on the outskirts of London is about to come under the auctioneer's hammer. It is Pitt House, or Wildwood, as it was originally called. A house that had its part in one of the most epoch-making events in the world's history.

It was to this mansion, on Hampstead Heath, in the property of Lord North, that William Pitt, "the great commoner," retired in April, 1789, within a few days of his death's elevation to the Premiership and to the exalted of Chatham, remaining there, a physical and mental wreck, in complete seclusion from both king and ministers, for many months at one of the most critical periods of English history, when the clash with the American colonies reached its acute phase. Had the great statesman been able to be at his post during the memorable year 1789, it is not unlikely that historians dealing with events in the American continent a century and a half ago would have a vastly different tale to tell.

The property, which will be offered for sale on November 10, has been altered a good deal since then, into a fine and perhaps more than externally, but all that remained of the Chatham incident has been kept so rigorously intact.

Pitt's apartments remain as they were, the most curious being an inner chamber on the top floor, the door of which still fastens by its padlock that Pitt used. When the aged earl required anything it was placed in a recess outside his door, and in answer to a knock he unlocked the door, took what he wanted from the recess and forthwith locked himself in again. The floors of his private rooms are still preserved as they were, showing the marks of his wheels of his invalid chair. The oak cupboard in which he kept his state papers is also preserved.

Is Your Name Mary?

All the Marys, Maries, Mays, and Marias of the world, take heed. A big appeal to contrivance anything from one penny to one pound towards a Coronation presentation to Queen Mary.

This delightful idea has been put on foot by the McMichelsons of Butte, who, some time ago, issued a notice asking all women called Mary in Bule to write to her. Though none knew her motive, many wrote, and then the scheme came out.

It would be difficult to estimate the number of Marys who will be present in the Empire, but they must number three or four millions at least. Among the duchesses there are four Marys—the Duchess of Bedford, the Duchess of Abercorn, the Duchess of Sutherland and the Duchess of Hamilton and Brandon. In addition to this, two of Queen Mary's Warranted names are also Marys—Lady Lamington and Lady Mary Trefusis.

Full details of the scheme are not yet known, but local committees of Marys are likely to be formed to assist in the work. It is estimated that more than one million names will be given, and the name will be inscribed on a list of names of women who have given their names to the cause, but not the amount of her subscription.

Now it lies with some prominent George to step forward and inaugurate a similar scheme for a presentation to King George V.—Answers.

A Cool Request.

"Had I not practiced physical exercises and making my mind to be patient time, I should never have been able to perform the work which has fallen to my lot." These were the words of Lord Alverstone, the Lord Chief Justice of England, who is 63 years of age, recently paid tribute to the value of sport and recreation. A great athlete in his younger days, he carried off the prize for the mile and two miles in a variety of sports, and distinguished himself in the cricket field.

His lordship's running feats were once recalled to him in connection with an amusing manner by a prisoner, whom he was trying. "I know you," said the prisoner, "and many of the time I've given you a hand when you've been stepping it round the track like a greyhound; so let's down lightly, like a good cove as you are."

A Traveling Law Court.

As a leading member of the North Wales Circuit, Mr. Ellis J. Griffith, M.P., one of the new K.C.'s, has had his share of amusing experiences. Once the judge before whom he was moving was due at Chester, and as there was every probability of his missing the last train there was nothing for it but to finish the case en route. "There was no need to move the court," says Mr. Griffith, "for the engine was doing that; and for fourteen miles I addressed the judge on behalf of my clients. The case was thus concluded, and my lord served his decision. It is an extremely valuable remedy in the early stages of a cold, especially if the patient is wrapped in heavy blankets while taking the bath and its action is assisted by some simple hot drink, such as flavoured tea, lemonade, etc., with a view to inducing a profuse perspiration."

Value of Hydrotherapy.

The other applications of water, massage, etc., is a disease come within the province of the attending physician, and his judgment must be exercised in each individual case. We believe that such remedies are not employed as frequently as they should be. The failure to use them results not from lack of knowledge on the part of physicians, but because it is difficult to carry out such measures in the ordinary household without employing skilled nurses. The average patient prefers to swallow a few pills rather than put himself to any inconvenience. This explains the reason to so many irregular lines of treatment when drugs have failed to effect a cure.

The Bullet Well Guarded.

The bullet which killed Nelson, which was sent by King Edward to the Japan-British Exhibition, has been safely returned to the King's Armourer. It was guarded by watchmen and policemen night and day, and the case was secured with padlocks.

IS NOW ESTABLISHED

NEW CHINESE CONSUL IS AN EXPERIENCED OFFICIAL.

Wang See Yuen, Who Represents the Celestial Kingdom at Ottawa, Was Formerly Consul at Nagasaki, Japan, and Was Before That a Magistrate at Kiansau and Shanghai—Has Son at American College.

The new Chinese consul, Wang See Yuen, who recently arrived in Ottawa as imperial consul general for Canada, has been consul at Nagasaki, Japan, for over two years. His native place is Huchow, in the Province of Cheking, Central China, having been born at Shanghai. He was educated in China and was a magistrate for some years at Kiansau and has also been magistrate of the Mixed Courts at Shanghai. The new imperial consul general for Canada speaks English very well and is evidently a learned and experienced official and a courteous gentleman. He has taken up his quarters at the Chinese consulate, which is a handsome street in Ottawa. The new imperial consul general has a son at Denver, Colo., preparing to take a course in the university.

WANG SEE YUEN.

In "Count Hamelin," which Mr. Oscar Asche and his wife, Miss Lily Brayton, have produced at the New Theatre, London, during the past week, a popular actor tells of the Bo-worth light in "Richard III." when he was appearing in that play some years ago. One night one of the supers got hurt in the mimic battle, and was given a sovereign to a balm for his woes. "He told his fellows of his luck," says Mr. Asche, "and the next presentation of the play was a success. The supers fought as if determined that none of them should leave the stage alive, and I don't know how many of them were killed. I received one or two severe cuts, and the curtain had to be drawn to save the play from further mischief. No more supers received half-sovereigns for wounded feelings in that theatre again."

Realism on the Stage.

In "Count Hamelin," which Mr. Oscar Asche and his wife, Miss Lily Brayton, have produced at the New Theatre, London, during the past week, a popular actor tells of the Bo-worth light in "Richard III." when he was appearing in that play some years ago. One night one of the supers got hurt in the mimic battle, and was given a sovereign to a balm for his woes. "He told his fellows of his luck," says Mr. Asche, "and the next presentation of the play was a success. The supers fought as if determined that none of them should leave the stage alive, and I don't know how many of them were killed. I received one or two severe cuts, and the curtain had to be drawn to save the play from further mischief. No more supers received half-sovereigns for wounded feelings in that theatre again."

Jewel Thief's Ruse.

A novel method of defrauding a jeweler was successfully carried out by a Paris thief. He drove up in a carriage to the jeweler's shop with his identity unknown, left a bag containing a large quantity of gold coins with the dealer of Reboloth Church, instructions being also given as to whether the jeweler minded him sending him home for the money.

No objection was made to this course, and then there was another request. "Would you mind writing for me," asked the customer, "a letter to my wife, telling her that I have been hurt my arm. Just write, 'Please give Robert £1,250,' and sign it 'Henry.' The jeweler wrote the letter, and in fifteen minutes Robert was back with the cash."

When the jeweler went home a light dawned. "What," his wife asked, "did you want $1,250 for?" The thief had made the jeweler, whose name was Henri, pay for the gems with his own money.

Mysterious Visitor's Bag of Gold.

Anonymous gifts have been made to Llangollen Welsh chapel. A few days ago a mysterious visitor, whose identity is unknown, left a bag containing a large quantity of gold coins with the dealer of Reboloth Church, instructions being also given as to whether the jeweler minded him sending him home for the money.

No objection was made to this course, and then there was another request. "Would you mind writing for me," asked the customer, "a letter to my wife, telling her that I have been hurt my arm. Just write, 'Please give Robert £1,250,' and sign it 'Henry.' The jeweler wrote the letter, and in fifteen minutes Robert was back with the cash."

When the jeweler went home a light dawned. "What," his wife asked, "did you want $1,250 for?" The thief had made the jeweler, whose name was Henri, pay for the gems with his own money.

Not True to Life.

"You talk about realism," said the sarcastic backer to the stage manager, "and not supposed to know any better than to put a cork in the eye of a child who could spot that ridiculous oversight of yours."

The stage manager was used to criticism, but he couldn't help squirming. "Well, what's wrong?" he demanded. "I wouldn't have mentioned it at all if you hadn't put up such a lot of realism guff," said the prompter. "But when you bring in that post-bard train with the hero tied to the cow, and then he is the prompter, I don't see how you can expect the audience to be so stupid as to believe in that."

The stage manager was used to criticism, but he couldn't help squirming. "Well, what's wrong?" he demanded. "I wouldn't have mentioned it at all if you hadn't put up such a lot of realism guff," said the prompter. "But when you bring in that post-bard train with the hero tied to the cow, and then he is the prompter, I don't see how you can expect the audience to be so stupid as to believe in that."

The stage manager was used to criticism, but he couldn't help squirming. "Well, what's wrong?" he demanded. "I wouldn't have mentioned it at all if you hadn't put up such a lot of realism guff," said the prompter. "But when you bring in that post-bard train with the hero tied to the cow, and then he is the prompter, I don't see how you can expect the audience to be so stupid as to believe in that."

The stage manager was used to criticism, but he couldn't help squirming. "Well, what's wrong?" he demanded. "I wouldn't have mentioned it at all if you hadn't put up such a lot of realism guff," said the prompter. "But when you bring in that post-bard train with the hero tied to the cow, and then he is the prompter, I don't see how you can expect the audience to be so stupid as to believe in that."

The stage manager was used to criticism, but he couldn't help squirming. "Well, what's wrong?" he demanded. "I wouldn't have mentioned it at all if you hadn't put up such a lot of realism guff," said the prompter. "But when you bring in that post-bard train with the hero tied to the cow, and then he is the prompter, I don't see how you can expect the audience to be so stupid as to believe in that."

The stage manager was used to criticism, but he couldn't help squirming. "Well, what's wrong?" he demanded. "I wouldn't have mentioned it at all if you hadn't put up such a lot of realism guff," said the prompter. "But when you bring in that post-bard train with the hero tied to the cow, and then he is the prompter, I don't see how you can expect the audience to be so stupid as to believe in that."

A HISTORIC MANOR.

Ancient Seigneurie Home Now the Property of E. A. Robert.

The old Seigneurie houses, relics of a bygone epoch of Canadian history, are now the country homes of men of means in the social or commercial life of the Dominion.

The Manor House of Beauharnois, Que., is the country residence of Mr. E. A. Robert, vice-president of the Canadian Power Co. and newly-elected president of the Montreal Street Railway Co. Mr. Robert is well known in the commercial world as the head of the Robert Syndicate that won out in the great legal fight between the organization and the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Co., and that once again has carried the day in the struggle for supremacy in street railway affairs.

Although Mr. Robert is the type of man who is indefatigable in his attention to business interests, yet no one enjoys more than he does the delights of country life. The rural acres of his manorial abode are his hobby, and he shows as keen a relish for the pursuits of the poultry-fancier and the floriculturist as he does for facing the thunder of commercial enterprise. Mr. Robert has shown his zest for competition in matters other than the financial. He has frequently been stated that the celebrated melons of Montreal cannot be grown off the island. Ever summer for the last two years the Manor House garden has produced a patch of melons, many of which weigh from sixteen to twenty pounds, and which have all the flavor and lusciousness of the renowned cantaloupes of the South.

The Seigneurie of Beauharnois boasts the distinction of being one of the remaining alive in Canada that are still yet redeemed and that still pays its tolls as under the old regime of Seigneurial tenure. The Seigneurie was ceded by the French King, Louis XV., to Charles Marquis de Beauharnois, April 19, 1763. On January 14, 1764, the King signed a new deed giving the Seigneurie to Lieutenant de Vaisseau, Marquis de Beauharnois. In 1765, the latter transferred his rights to the Marquis de Lobbiniere for $8,000; and he in turn sold it, in 1789, to the Marquis de Lobbiniere, a member of a large and influential family of the commercial house in London, England, for $6,000 Spanish dollars.

The present Manor House was built over a century ago; and figured in the events of the war of 1838. Edward de Lobbiniere, descendant of the first English Seigneur being taken prisoner in the cellar whither he had fled for refuge.

It is fitting that the Seigneurie should have fallen into the hands of Mr. Robert, a native of Beauharnois. He has the town's interest at heart, and has done much for its advancement and for its preservation and beautifying its traditional territory, but by promoting its industrial welfare.

Church and State.

There died last month in Peterboro the old and venerable the late James Stevenson, ex-M.P. He had lived in Peterboro since 1843. He was a native of Scotland, and a personal friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. He represented West Peterboro in the House of Commons for two terms, from 1857 and 1866, defeating Hon. George A. Cox in his first election.

During this contest of twenty-three years ago the feeling ran high on each side, for, although a strong Conservative, George A. Cox was a popular citizen. A Peterboro man was recalling the fight, during a recent conversation with a political friend and remarked:

"I remember well the Sunday before the election, when Mr. Cox and Mr. Stevenson were, in my memory serves me well, members of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church. They were entrusted with the dignified duty of taking up the collection. On the Sunday before the contest they were far more observed than the minister himself, who found it difficult to preach to a congregation intensely interested in a political fight."

As they approached the altar with their silver-filled plates, the candidates came face to face and regarded each other with a keen and hostile gaze. This was the last time they were seen together. The congregation and audience all greeted the return of each politician to the seclusion of his pew."

Apple Culls for Cider.

That Canadian fruit growers could make good money by using their cull apples for cider, instead of feeding them to stock, was the advice given to the Ontario Fruit Growers' Convention a short time ago by Louis Menier of Paris, France, who is conducting experiments on the making quinquina of local fruit in Toronto University. He has found that 10 pounds of culls will make one gallon of cider; it costs 3 or 4 cents a gallon and can be sold locally at 10 cents. If the quality were good it would sell for 35 cents in Europe. Barrels of culls should easily net the grower $1.30.

Mr. Menier, an expert and South American, he said, would be a great market for a good quality of cider, and he was aware to this fact. To show how Nova Scotia's export trade in this article has been declining, he gave figures thus: 1903, $810; 1904, $9,400; 1905, $28,000. He had found that the best quality of cider in the European market could be made from a combination of Tolman sweets and crabs. Products from culls that are not ready market in Europe were apple juice, sweet liquor and apple cake.

A close fitting motor bonnet for cold weather is of fine colored leather with the trim turned back on the furred craps to a depth of four inches and studded on edge with small silk tufts.

Going Motoring.

Have you seen the new knitted boots with border and ties that are brought round the neck, cross in front and the bow at back? They are come along like the caps of early Tudor reign.

Another quaint motor cap of velvet folds with brocade or cretonne border to lighter tones, ornamented on each side with a huge velvet colored button mould to peaked like the caps of colonial days.

A close fitting motor bonnet for cold weather is of fine colored leather with the trim turned back on the furred craps to a depth of four inches and studded on edge with small silk tufts.

A close fitting motor bonnet for cold weather is of fine colored leather with the trim turned back on the furred craps to a depth of four inches and studded on edge with small silk tufts.

A close fitting motor bonnet for cold weather is of fine colored leather with the trim turned back on the furred craps to a depth of four inches and studded on edge with small silk tufts.

A close fitting motor bonnet for cold weather is of fine colored leather with the trim turned back on the furred craps to a depth of four inches and studded on edge with small silk tufts.

A close fitting motor bonnet for cold weather is of fine colored leather with the trim turned back on the furred craps to a depth of four inches and studded on edge with small silk tufts.

THE POLO COAT.

It's the Smart Outing Wrap of the Season.

When is a polo coat not a polo coat? That is the question which may be answered in the same breath—when you see it worn by smart girls and women as an outing wrap, for motor-cars, on the tennis court or a blouse for the feminine champion as she stands to receive the congratulations of her friends after the game these cold autumn days, on the field of conquest or at football games.

The coat will be worn in cold and stormy days by swapper girls during the winter, and in short, it's mighty useful, all round wrap, but where it gets its name nobody knows.

The material of the polo coat is not unlike a heavy eldorado fabric, and a snuffy brown shade is the approved color of Dame Fashion.

The coat is long, loose and double breasted and fastened with a double row of large buttons. There are a wide belt of the material drawn through straps and a collar that buttons up tightly about the throat, or it may be turned down at will. These costs range in price from $40 to $20, according to fabric and material.

Where "Cranford" Was Written.

To lovers of that English classic "Cranford" this picture of the house in Manchester, England, where Mrs. Gaskell wrote her inimitable story will doubtless be of great interest.

The house where Mrs. Gaskell's birth was recently celebrated at Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

THE MANCHESTER HOUSE, WHERE MRS. GASKELL SPENT MOST OF HER MARRIED LIFE.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

Knutsford, Cheshire, the English village which furnished the author with her character studies for "Cranford," in which she reproduced to the life the everyday existence of the "maiden ladies" and their widows of limited means, who formed the social life of the village.

THIS SPACE TO LET

We Want To Call Your Attention

To the difference between our Silk Goods and the silk goods of other stores.

All our Silks have been chosen personally in China and sent direct to us for Blaimore people, without the additional charges of importing houses.

For New Year Presents Silks are always popular. They are easily sent by mail, they are always in use, and they are always well received by particular people.

MAR ON HAS THE CHOICEST ASSORTMENT IN THE PASS
—SEE THE GOODS—

Catalogue pictures are misleading, therefore come and see the goods in our show windows.

Piano Drapes, Table Cloths, Neckties, Handkerchiefs, Shoulder Shawls, and a variety of Articles ranging in price from 35 c. to $10.

COME AND GET ACQUAINTED

with our 5 per cent. discount on Groceries and Dry Goods. Many Blaimore people are already saving money by our plan. You try it.

Mar On : FIRST CLASS GOODS.
service : COURTESY
ATTENTION
HONORABLE DEALING.

MAR ON

BLAIRMORE

ALBERTA

Blaimore Liquor Store

THE LIQUOR STORE OF QUALITY

WE CARRY THE BEST

wines and liquors and they possess purity and deliciousness of flavor that is highly satisfactory. Prepare for the Holiday Season.

WINES AND LIQUORS are the kind you should serve. They'll please everyone who appreciates quality and smoothness in taste. Place your order now, delivery will be made immediately.

Phone Your Orders To No. 45 and You Can Depend on Prompt Delivery.

M. Rosse

Proprietor

WEST CANADIAN COLLIERIES LIMITED

Belgian Coke Ovens, of the Bernard Type, in use at Lille.

Miners of

STEAM, COKING AND DOMESTIC COAL

MINES AT BLAIRMORE, LILLE AND BELLEVUE HEAD OFFICE AT

BLAIRMORE

ALT.

WE DO GOOD JOB WORK

CONSTRUCTION COMMENCED

On The New Blaimore Opera House. To Be Completed By Early Spring.

$1,500 SCENERY IS ORDERED

Many Opera Companies Seeking Privilege of Opening The New Structure.

Work on the construction of the large Blaimore opera house commenced this week. Nearly all the material is on the ground and work will be proceeded with until this large and imposing building will be ready for occupancy. The erection of so many other large buildings in Blaimore during the past few months has prevented the contractors—Frayer & Sinclair—from proceeding with this structure earlier. However, a large gang of men will be placed on the building so as to have it ready for use as early as possible.

As stated, the Blaimore opera house will be the largest and most up-to-date of any in this district. With a length of 110 feet and a breadth of 56 feet, besides a large balcony and ten boxes, it will have sufficient accommodation for eight hundred people to be seated comfortably.

Four boxes will be erected near each front corner of the stage, and one at each front corner of the balcony.

The scenery, which will cost $1,500, and an asbestos curtain, have already been ordered.

The Blaimore opera house is being erected between Victoria and State Streets and facing Fifth Avenue. This is an ideal place for such a structure, being convenient of access from all parts of the town.

Besides affording lots of accommodation for the general public, the opera house companies will not be forgotten and large dressing rooms and everything for their comfort will be provided in the basement, which will be of concrete and of the same size as the main building.

The plan is now on exhibition at the office of W. A. Beebe, and many complimentary remarks have already been made by those who have viewed it.

Representatives of opera companies say that when completed, Blaimore will have one of the best show houses in the West, which will be an attraction to good companies who will find it an ideal place to entertain the public.

The cost is estimated at $12,000, and it will be completed in the early spring.

Already several good companies have applied for the privilege of opening the new opera house, which is a proof that it is already the means of great attraction.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one does not realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by dealers everywhere.

Happenings in and Around Blaimore

The Blaimore I. O. O. F. will move into their new hall about next week.

"Runners" had to be discarded during Christmas to give place to the "wheels."

T. Frayer paid a visit to Edmonton and other points north last week.

J. R. Smith, of the West Canadian Collieries, went to Winnipeg on Sunday night.

Archie McLeod goes on a business and pleasure visit to Edmonton to-morrow.

Dr. W. McKay spent Christmas with friends at Calgary and returned Thursday.

The new rink is being well patronized and all skaters are busy while the season lasts.

W. E. Smith, the new manager for Mar On Store, arrived in town from Lethbridge Tuesday night.

Misses Ross, Turner and Cogland, of the Blaimore teaching staff, spent the Christmas vacation at Calgary.

W. J. Bartlett, manager of this paper, returned Thursday from an enjoyable holiday at Calgary, Edmonton and Irma.

A large number of hockey enthusiasts attended the Frank vs. Coleman match at Coleman on Monday night.

An enjoyable ball was given last night in the Mercantile hall under the auspices of the Blaimore Hockey Club.

In northern Alberta, the Crow's Nest Pass is spoken of as the "Golden South." Here we talk of the "Golden West."

L. P. Roberts returned from Denver, Cal., on Sunday with his bride and has taken up residence in West Blaimore.

The coldest snap for the season was experienced here on Saturday night and Sunday morning. The mercury said: "26—below zero."

H. M. Budd, of Vancouver, spent a few days of the Christmas season with his brother here, and returned to the coast Thursday via Macleod and Calgary.

Some of the local boys, who are influenced by the good work and good times of the club at Frank, are talking of organizing a similar Calabash Club in Blaimore.

C. Hisecks & Co. opened their new grocery store at the corner of Victoria Street and Ninth Avenue. The new store has a splendid front and is very attractive interiorly.

The members of Blaimore Lodge, No. 68, I. O. O. F., were tendered an invitation to the Coleman Lodge on Tuesday night and attended in full force, where a most enjoyable time was had.

The Blaimore Hardware has just installed air heating apparatus in some of the new W. C. residences of Blaimore West, and we learn that several other dwellings will be similarly fitted very shortly.

The Mason Company made a decided hit Monday night in the role of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the Opera House. Little Maxine won the admiration of all for the able manner in which she performed her parts.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung troubles, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerously sounding cough which indicates congested lungs. Sold by dealers everywhere.

INQUEST IS RESUMED

At Bellevue on Tuesday. The Previously Empanelled Jury Are Discharged

NEW JURY IS EMPANELLED

Jury Sat Wednesday Forenoon To Consider Evidence In The Bellevue Disaster.

Tuesday was another interesting day for Bellevue, that being the date to which the coroner's inquest had been adjourned. The first jury met at the Socialist Hall at 10 a.m. where they were discharged to give place to another jury. Owing to the non-arrival of the train from east, which was several hours late, an adjournment was taken to 3 p.m. when the full coroner's court met in session.

Coroner Pinkney presided. The following jury were chosen and empanelled, none of whom are in any way connected with the workings of the Crow's Nest Pass mines; which selection was brought about through the disagreement of the first jury:

James W. Gresham, chairman; W. J. Lighthart, F. E. Hinds, Ed. D. Muir, George Thomson, Andrew J. Leamonte, Thomas Hoare, Wm. A. Ross, John Angus McDonald, and Roland Allison.

There were present the following counsellors and representatives: W. M. Campbell, crown prosecutor; H. Mackie, Edmonton, representing the miners, Mr. Wood, for the company, and Mr. Holson, of the mines department of Ottawa.

As the evening had so far advanced the evidences of witnesses were not taken and an adjournment was called forth with till 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. A large number of people, miners and others, from different parts of the Pass have arrived in Bellevue to hear the inquest and deep interest is manifested from all quarters.

Alberta Trading COMPANY

TELEPHONE 147

NEW YEAR DAINTIES

New Hawaii Dates
Now Turkish Three Crown Figs
Fresh California Hot House Lettuce
New Navil Oranges—sweet and juicy
Malaga Grapes
Washed Brazil Nuts
Agents for 'Royal Household' flour

Gales & Hangel HIGH-CLASS GROCERS

Kull Block
Blaimore, - Alta

W. A. Beebe

Real Estate and Insurance

Broker in Mines and Mining Stocks

Houses for sale or rent and rent collected.
Issuer of Marriage Licenses and Notary Public

VICTORIA STREET
Blaimore, Alta.

THOSE WHO TOIL EARNESTLY AND WITH SUCCESS WILL BE SATISFIED ONLY WITH THE BEST OVER-HAUL THAT CAN BE MANUFACTURED.

LEATHER LABEL OVER-HAULS

ARE HIGH GRADE, UNION MADE AND THE BEST

AMERICAN STYLE WORK CLOTHES

THEY ARE DOUBLE STITCHED THROUGHOUT, BIG AND GENEROUS (IT TAKES FROM 42 TO 44 YARDS TO MAKE A DOZEN PAIRS, SEVEN POCKETS, IMPROVED BUCKLES AND BUTTONS THAT WON'T COME OFF, ELASTIC DETACHABLE SUSPENDERS, ETC.)

LOOK FOR THE TAN COLORED TRADE MARK ON YOUR OVERALLS. THE LEATHER LABEL. WE ARE THE AGENTS FOR LEATHER LABEL OVERALLS.

H. F. WEBER

BLAIRMORE, ALTA.